7. Enter information as follows for each field...(fields with a red asterisk (*) are required).

Lab Name and Lab # - This is the laboratory of your choice where you will be mailing your sample and printed collection form. The lab # field populates automatically.

Tons – This is the amount of tons that were manufactured in the batch of product you are sampling. The sample you are sending to be tested is representative of this batch. This is typically not the amount of product you have generated for the quarter or for the year as reported in your tonnage reports, only what is representative of that manufactured batch.

Date Collected – This is the date the sampler collects the sample.

Date Submitted – This is the date the sample is submitted or mailed to the laboratory.

Delivery Ticket – This field is for your own tracking purposes on individual shipments or batches.

Product Name – This is the name of the product you are sampling, typically the labeled product name.

Sampler – Name of the person collecting the sample.

Feed Category – Select “Mixed Feed” or “Ingredient”.

Product Type – Select the type of product you are sampling.

Sampling Method – Select what method was used to collect the sample.

Place Collected – Enter the place where the sample was collected such as “warehouse” or “plant” etc.

In the table on the right, enter guarantees for the analytes you desire to have tested. Click on the check boxes of the contaminants you desire to have tested. (use the scroll bar to view additional analytes and contaminants)

8. If the feed sampled went to a consumer, click the “Add Consumer Info” button.
